

A Healing Retreat with Glenys Brown

This healing weekend offers the chance to truly relax and unwind and take the time to focus on your personal healing and development for a full weekend with no interruptions or distractions. Imagine being able to spend the whole weekend replenishing your energy, building your reserves, being guided to go within to release stress and go more deeply into personal processes. You will enjoy the company of likeminded friends in lush, green surrounds with bush walks close by yet you are still close to Sydney. The modern comfortable retreat offers warm, spacious areas and modern amenities. Only 2-3 per room, maximum group size 20.

Daily qigong, meditation and learning to heal yourself and others through the practice of medical qigong are all part of the weekend. This is a unique experience, the first time offered by Glenys Brown, for those who seek to understand how to heal using ancient methods and who want to learn more about Glenys' new understanding of the patterns of disease in the body, our higher energy "brains", intuitive development and so much more.
